Warm Springs, Irvington Vote Flood Zone; Alameda Creek Hearing Friday In Pleasanton

WILSON RAPS SUPERVISOR RAISE

A resolution asking the Legislature to deny raises to Alameda County's supervisors and superintendent of schools was demanded Tuesday before the Niles Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Tom Wilson charged the local supervisors "are taking the back door to get their salaries raised," since a similar move was turned down a few years ago by the voters.

Assemblyman Herbert Dolwig of San Mateo County recently introduced a bill which would raise this county's supervisors' salaries of $660 per month approximately 20 per cent. And, according to Wilson, the superintendent of schools also would be upped from $14,000 to $16,000 a year.

Wilson demanded the chamber write a protest to State Senator Arthur Breed. But President Peter Juhl had the issue tabled for one week.

"Dolwig, who presented the bill raising the supervisors' pay and giving them lifetime pensions on half-pay, was the one who also represented the Garden of Allah, and (Supervisor Harry) Bartell backed him up," charged the fiery dentist, referring to the recent dispute over a dance-hall permit.

"It's horse-trading!" Wilson then demanded and got a resolution praising Supervisor Kent Pursell for "trying to improve the County Fair instead of making it a race meeting."

Incidentally, Bartell appeared before the Legislature last week and obtained $150,000 to enlarge the grandstand at the Pleasanton fair. The bigger grandstand will be ready by June.

Wilson aimed some of his barbs at Board Chairman Chester E. Stanley.

Today, Stanley denied the supervisors have sought any specific sum from the Legislature.

"We're only asking a study," he declared. "We scratched out the $7800 a year we are paid now, and asked only that the Legislature make our pay comparable to the tin counties of comparable size."

He also denied Wilson's allegation job. Stanley said he and his colleagues "work a 16-to-18-hour day."

Stanley also explained the pension plan, introduced by Assemblyman Randal Dickey of Alameda County, is a separate measure which would give a supervisor with 16 years' service half-pay on retirement at the age of 68.

PASHOTE TO HEAD NEWARK CHAMBER

Joseph E. Pashote, Newark fire chief, is new president of the local Chamber of Commerce following his election Tuesday.

Pashote succeeds Ken Foster. Named to serve with him were Jack MacGregor, vice-president; Dr. Howard Buschke, recording secretary; J. S. Oliveira, financial secretary, and Paul Gygas, treasurer.

Directors will be Foster, Frank X. Veit, Ray Auchard, Bill Hilbrand, Louis Caldeira and A. W. Cotton.

An auditing committee was named: Richard Enright, Cline Hayward and Joseph Rachenwander.

MacGregor was appointed to arrange the annual installation dinner and ladies' night at the school on February 4.

LAST STRAW! KIDS INVENT A NEW ONE

A new wrinkle in crime was uncovered last week in Niles.

Charles Rushing, proprietor of a First Street service station, opened his outside soft-drink locker, found youngsters had made off with the contents of several bottles of beverages, without removing the bottles.

They punched holes in the bottle caps, inserted straws, and transferred their loot to their stomachs.

INDUSTRY, HOME-BUILDERS CLASH AT NEWARK OVER 'MASTER PLAN' ZONING

First objections to "Master Plan" zoning around Newark were heard Tuesday from the Southern Pacific Railroad and the American Forest Products Corporation.

The objections were countered by a developer who said 500 homes soon will be built southeast of Newark, and warned the area must be zoned for residences.

The controversy arose when John Jay Thomas, secretary of the County Planning Commission, presented the commission's proposed Master Plan for the first time before the Newark Chamber of Commerce.

Southern Pacific and lumber firm representatives noted that an area bounded by Baine Avenue, Cherry Avenue, the new Freeway, and Mowry Avenue is proposed for residences.

The industrialists said they have plans for expanding facilities and more factories which would conflict with such zoning.

Then Joe Nuland, the builder, countered plans exist for 500 homes to be built soon in the same region. He said his firm, Kvistad Construction, already has agreed to property-line setbacks along Cherry Avenue to divide the residential from the industrial zone to the southwest.

Thomas emphasized the Master Plan is only a guide, and that every objector will have ample chance to be heard before actual zoning is adopted.

Thomas' map shows land between Jarvis and Mowry Roads and from Cherry Avenue to the Freeway as residential, while land west of Cherry is proposed for commercial use, and areas west of the north-south SP tracks is largely industrial.

Niles Firehouse Fete

Volunteer firemen in Niles will show off their new firehouse February 15 at an open house in the station on Second Street.

The announcement was made this week by Fire Commissioner John Brahmst. Brahmst said the event will run from 1 to 4 p.m. Further details will be announced later.

CHICKENPOX HERE

Seven cases of chickenpox were reported in Washington Township last week, according to the County Health Department.

MOUGHON GETS 6 MONTHS IN JAIL

Raymond Moughon, 46, Niles steel mill foreman, was sentenced to six months in jail Monday for the highway deaths of four San Jose persons here June 15.

Moughon appeared in Oakland superior court for sentence after an earlier plea of guilty on four counts of misdemeanor manslaughter and four charges of felony drunken driving.

He also was given four years' probation. Moughon was charged with responsibility for the death of Henrique Bettencourt, sexton of the Church of the Holy Wounds, his daughter, his cousin and five-year-old grandson in a head-on collision just north of the Southern Pacific underpass in Niles.

Judge C. W. Snook also ordered Moughon to pay any civil damages against him which are not covered by his $20,000 insurance. Moughon is being sued for a total of $162,492 by relatives of the crash victims.

P. T. & T. Survey to Determine Chances

If all goes well, telephone subscribers here should be able to dial any town in Washington Township from any other town within the year.

This hope was held out Monday before the Centerville Chamber of Commerce by Douglas Smith, district manager for the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company in Hayward.

Smith also disclosed:

1. The company is planning to invest about $4,000,000 in a pair of central offices in the Township, probably by 1956.

2. Additional central office equipment will relieve some of the present log-jam of unfilled phone applications in Centerville next month, and in Niles before summer.

3. Service should improve in Irvington immediately, with hiring of an additional operator, making three on duty.

Smith stressed the inter-city dialling and the central offices depend on company surveys now under way.

"I expect to be able to tell you about the dial service by the middle of this year," he told the Chamber luncheoners. "We have to see if it is physically possible to run trunk lines past the present centrals and into the various towns."

"It also involves first taking care of those who presently are without phone service: 449 in the Township. We have 217 unfilled applications in Centerville, 87 in Niles, 22 in Mission San Jose, 21 in Irvington, and so on. We feel they must be taken care of before we make refinements in the service."

Smith said applicants in local towns, with the exception of Decoto, where a new office was recently completed, have to wait until someone else disconnects service before they can have a telephone.

As for the two big central stations, estimated to cost about $4,000,000, the executive said engineers are studying this region for growth patterns before deciding where to put them.

"But we know that growth is coming," he emphasized. "It's just a question of where it will be. The company recognizes that Southern Alameda County is one of the fastest-growing (Continued on Page 8)"

BRUNELLI PREXY OF C'VILLE C. OF C.

Romeo Brunelli, Centerville Chevrolet dealer, this week was named president of the Centerville Chamber of Commerce for the coming year.

Brunelli succeeds William Clark, Union Oil distributor. Active in civic work for many years, Brunelli is a long-time director of the businessmen's organization.

Other officers nominated and elected unanimously at Monday's meeting include:

William Short, Ford sales manager, vice-president; LeRoy Brown, attorney, recording secretary; Louis L. Cardoza, realtor, financial secretary; Erle Hygelund, lumber executive, treasurer.

Nominated and elected to directorships were Judge Allen G. Norris, E. A. Van Scoy, A. E. Alameda, and Clark. Delegates to the Township Chamber are Cardoza, Harry Weber and Allan Walton.

The nominations were made by a committee headed by Dallas Paul.

TOWNSHIP COMMUNITY CHEST AGENCIES WILL SHARE $7,831

Agencies of the Washington Township Community Chest have been allotted a total of $7,831 this year by the United Crusade.

This was disclosed Monday at a Chest budget committee session, according to Treasurer Karl Christensen. He said the East Bay Federation of Community Chests, this year a Crusade function, allocated that amount to seven local agencies.

One-quarter of the sum, or $1,958, was paid out this week by Christensen. The balance will be paid out in quarterly installments.

Local Girl Scouts received a total of $2668, Boy Scouts $2840, Salvation Army $1500, United Defense Fund $273, Mission San Jose Youth Center $100, Irvington Youth Center $300, and Travelers' Aid $150. Bruce Michael, president of the Chest here, was named to head a committee to nominate new directors and president in June. Others on the committee are Maurice Marks, Allen G. Norris, Mrs. Marie Brazil, Mrs. James Robertson and William Beck.

Crucial Test Ahead For Proposed Zone 5

Voting nearly 4 to 1, residents of Irvington, Warm Springs and Mission San Jose Tuesday night virtually assured formation of a flood-control and drainage zone in that area.

And a similar zone along Alameda Creek still hinges on the outcome of another meeting tomorrow (Friday) in Pleasanton.

These were the highlights of a week which saw county officials poised to form the zones before the February 1 deadline, but waiting to test public sentiment first.

The Warm Springs meeting, called by the local chambers of commerce and the Farm Bureau, apparently counteracted one held last week in Mission San Jose.

At Mission San Jose, backers of the zone were outvoted, 37-26, after stiff opposition from Michael J. Overacker Jr. and other hill-side ranchers.

On Tuesday, however, when Charles A. Russell, a subdivider, called for an affirmative vote on the zone, about 100 persons of the audience of 150 rose. Only 27 stood for a "no" vote.

Flood District Engineer Herbert Crowle first explained the zone, which still must be oked by the supervisors. He stressed:

"An issue like this can't be decided at an informal meeting like this. The only way is for the zone to be established and plans and cost-estimates presented to the property-owners under formal proceedings, and this is what will be done. The primary purpose of this meeting is to disseminate information."

Earlier in the day, the County Boundary Commission, headed by Supervisor Chester E. Stanley, adopted the zone's boundaries as outlined by Crowle. Now only a favorable recommendation from the Advisory Commission, headed by W. D. Patterson, is awaited before the zone, Number 6, is formed, Stanley said.

Opposing Zone 6, Overacker repeated his arguments made last week, then declared:

"If you can show me how the subdividers are going to pay a just share, I might go along."

Russell then introduced his motion, and Charles Venturi, president of the Warm Springs Chamber, who presided, called for a vote.

After the vote, Overacker charged it was no "true picture of Warm Springs sentiment" since Irvingtonians and others voted, and he asked for a poll of the Warm Springs Chamber. But Venturi overruled him, saying an "overall opinion" was sought when the meeting was called in the grammar school auditorium.

This Friday's session in Pleasanton, at the high school at 7:45 p.m., is to determine whether (Continued on page 8)

ARCHITECT ISSUE
DIES AT C'VILLE

Centerville's Chamber of Commerce last Monday declined to act on a San Joaquin Valley group's suggestion that private architects for public schools be eliminated in favor of a State school architect.

Eugene Manning last week introduced the plan, which the Delano Chamber proposed to cut school building costs.

A San Jose architect, L. F. Richards, wrote to Centerville warning that New York City abandoned such a program when costs there proved to be 12 per cent against the private firms' eight per cent fee.

Centerville Chamber President William Clark asked for comment. Manning was absent. No one else spoke, so Clark decreed the issue be "dropped."

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MAY GET VALLEJO
MILL SITE FROM SAN FRANCISCO FOR $1

Purchase of the famed Vallejo Mill site from the City of San Francisco was authorized last week by the Washington Township Historical Society.

The Society hopes to erect a replica of the 100-year-old mill there as a memorial museum. Involved is about 1½ acres of land just south of the Southern Pacific tracks and east of the Hayward Highway.

W. H. Cross, San Leandro banker and vice-president of the State Historical Society, who has interested himself in the mill, said John Brucato, real estate chief of the City's water department, offered the society the site for $1 through him.

However Cross said his research shows part of the ruins rest on land owned by the SP, and this will have to be obtained, too. In addition, the society wants a slice of State-owned property for an entrance. On motion of George Roeding Jr., Cross was empowered to negotiate for these too.

Members asked if the adjoining seven acres, leased by the City for a trailer court, also could not be obtained. They were told:

1. The city will not sell any more of the land.
2. It wants some revenue-producing enterprise there.

Judge Allen G. Norris reported conversations with Joseph R. Knowland, chairman of the State Parks Commission, left him with the impression the State won't help with reconstruction of the mill if an unsightly trailer court is built next to it.

So far, the Alameda County Planning Commission has refused to issue a permit for the court.

The issue was further complicated when some members said acquisition of the 1½ acres was conditional on the society's withdrawing opposition to the court. But Norris stressed this wasn't necessary, since the historical group has never taken a stand on the matter.

"I certainly don't want to bind this group not to object," said Norris, "if the $1 sale is conditional on any such withdrawal."

Other members pointed out (1) that the City may be within its rights as an independent political unit to build the court without an Alameda County permit, and (2) that if it is built, it would have to conform to State health laws governing such establishments. These include such restrictions as 22 toilets and

B'S WIN AGAIN, TIE FOR SCVAL LEAD

Coach Don Wolfe's Washington High B quintet copped their second straight league win Friday night, edging the Santa Clara B five, 39-35, in another thriller. Both league victories of the Pup-pies have been won by a four-point margin.

The Panthers gave the league leaders a scare, as they led 10-6, at the end of the first period. The Pup-pies rallied, however, and field goals by Bob Hird and Gordon Agrella gave the Pup-pies a 19-18 half-time margin.

The Pup-pies widened their lead to seven points and led 32-25 at the end of the third period.

The Panthers rallied to out-score the Pup-pies 10-7 in the final period but it was not quite enough to catch the hustling Junior Male-mutes.

The Pup-pies are now tied for first place with James Lick and Live Oak.

Ray Orozco captured scoring honors for the Orange and Black as he tanked 12 points, followed by Agrella with 10.

HUSKY HOOPSTERS SHOW IMPROVEMENT TRIMMING SANTA CLARA FOR LOOP WIN

By BOB HIRD

Coach Clyde Voorhees' Washington Hi cagers came through with their first victory of the young season Friday night as they tamed the Panthers from Santa Clara, 47-39, in the local court. The win gives the Huskies a 1-1 record in league play.

Friday night's contest was a tight, hard-fought one and for the first three periods neither team was able to build up more than a four-point advantage.

The Panthers took off in front and held a 13-10 lead at the end of the first quarter off the accurate shooting of forward John Perry who swished in nine digits.

The Huskies took a half-time lead, 24-23, when Forward Tony Nieves sank a field goal just as the buzzer sounded.

The Huskies outscored the Panthers in the third quarter, 12-10, and held a 36-33 lead. At the start of the fourth period Voorhees threw in his second unit in order to rest his first five, and found the second-stringers doing just as well, so he let them finish out the contest. They outscored the Panthers 11-6 during the eight minutes.

Nieves, who has been in an early season slump, came through to score 12 points for the Huskies.

followed by Allan Olk with 8. Perry bucketed 20 for the Panthers.

Olk and Center Antoine Rigmaiden aided the Orange and Black's cause with a masterful job on the backboards.

Other games in the SCVAL found the Fremont Indians trouncing the hapless Live Oak Acorns 60-35, the high-scoring Campbell Buccaneers edging out Mountain View 54-51, and Los Gatos beating James Lick 38-29.

Tomorrow night the Huskies play Los Gatos on the Cats' home floor. The Cats have a 2-0 record so far.

IRENE DODD—YOUNG LADY GOING PLACES

In just a few years, she has advanced in the telephone business from student operator to assistant chief

In August, 1943, Irene Dodd came to work for Pacific Telephone as an inexperienced student operator. Since then, she's had several promotions—to operator in charge, supervising operator, and recently to her present position as assistant chief operator. This is a familiar telephone success story. For advancing our telephone men and women as their skill and experience grows is just one more way we work to make your telephone ever more efficient and valuable to you.

A good place to work

One reason why telephone jobs are good jobs is the fact that each year thousands of telephone men and women are promoted to more responsible positions in the hundreds of communities we serve locally here in the Pacific West. Their goal: to help keep your telephone service the finest in the world.

YOUR TELEPHONE IS ONE OF TODAY'S BEST BARGAINS

Every day is exciting for Mrs. Dodd who, like many telephone women, has combined marriage and her career. She enjoys keeping house as much as she enjoys helping people with their telephone calls. Gratifying, too, is the feeling that she is helping new people get ahead in the telephone world. It's all part of telephone tradition—a tradition of service which insures that a well-trained force of men and women stands behind the good telephone service you enjoy every day.

LANA PLAYS MOMMY, DIES IN TRAGEDY

By STUART NIXON

Lana Machisko of Irvington was only four, but tragedy already had marked her.

Her mother had died when she was three, and now her daddy, George Machisko, was in Highland Hospital. Doctors said he had arthritis.

Lana and her five-year-old sister, Georgia, lived with kind Mr. and Mrs. John Pearson, on PG&E Road. Georgia went to kindergarten in the morning, so Lana had to play by herself most of the time.

Last Wednesday she decided to play "Mommy." She borrowed a dress of Mrs. Pearson's, marched around the downstairs rooms humming happily while Mrs. Pearson worked upstairs.

Suddenly the song turned to a scream. Lana's trailing dress had caught fire from a butane heater. When Mrs. Pearson reached her she was enveloped in flames. Her foster mother rolled her in a sheet and put them out. Then an ambulance rushed Lana to the same hospital where her daddy is a patient. But it was too late.

Lana died that night, burned from head to toe, just five hours after she had tried to be the mommy she missed so much.

POSTAL RECEIPTS UP $21,663 HERE

Growth of Washington Township during the past year is reflected in reports of eight local postmasters showing a 21-per cent gain in postal receipts during 1952. Receipts for the year totaled $127,256, up $21,663 over 1951, when $105,593 was recorded.

By town, the postmasters reported: NILES—$35,653, up $6,315, according to Edward L. Enos. A similar gain this year would make Niles the Township's first first-class office.

CENTERVILLE—$24,938, up $4,580, according to Manuel Lewis. NEWARK—$26,980, up $4,587, according to Mrs. Julia Harris. DECATO—$13,760, up $3,066, according to Mrs. Mary Janeiro. IRVINGTON—$11,709, up $952, according to Manuel Joseph.

ALVARADO—$6,405, up $814, according to Mrs. Genevieve Dutra. MISSION SAN JOSE—$5,226, up $688, according to Mrs. Lois Botenberg.

WARM SPRINGS—$2,580, up $647, according to Joseph Brown, dean of the Township's postmasters, who was appointed in 1913.

MONORAIL SOLUTION FOR COMMUTERS!

Rapid transit via overhead monorail can bring downtown Oakland and Centerville 27 minutes apart.

This possibility was forecast last week before the Rotary Club by Thomas St. John, vice-president of the Monorail Engineering & Construction Co., of Los Angeles. St. John told his luncheon audience:

1. Monorail transportation is cheaper to construct, faster and more comfortable than conventional interurban rail travel.

2. It will compete successfully with automobiles.

3. It will help eliminate city traffic by removing commuters' cars from city streets.

4. At a conservative 60 miles per hour, monorail passengers could zip 24 miles from downtown Oakland to Centerville, including stops, in 27 minutes.

St. John added that a New York investment banking firm, Dillon, Read & Co., has offered to underwrite a $20,000,000 bond issue to build monorail from Oakland to Hayward as soon as local interests provide a survey proving the need.

The speaker showed films of model monorails, and of a 52-year-old monorail system operating in Wuppertal, Germany.

He foresaw "feeder" bus lines carrying commuters to the central monorail stations, with parking provided at the stations.

grades. Mr. Victor Grundy of San Jose will replace Mr. Case as seventh grade teacher.

MY DEEPEST SYMPATHY goes to the family of Mrs. E. Espinoza, who passed away suddenly on Sunday.

WE HOPE David Hollyburton wasn't too seriously injured when he met with an accident Saturday evening. His car struck an electric pole, throwing Irvington into darkness for an hour.

CONGRATULATIONS to the Warm Springs fire department on the arrival of their new fire truck last Saturday.

St. John said Los Angeles is considering monorail commuter transit now. Estimated cost there is $1,500,000 a mile for single-standard overhead tracks. These can use existing highway center strips or railroad rights-of-way, St. John stressed.

A San Francisco Bay Area rapid-transit commission also is studying the plan, he reported.

Clifford K. Dennis presided at the session in the Country Club.

WORTH FIGHTING FOR

Tomorrow, Friday, a meeting of utmost importance to our Township will take place in Pleasanton. This is the final hearing on formation of Zone 5 of the county flood-control district. It was called to give those who want flood control in Southern Alameda County a final opportunity to be heard. So far, most of the heavy artillery has been fired by opponents of further county taxes which are needed to support such a program. But the commissioners, who must advise the supervisors whether or not to create the zone, feel that perhaps the last word hasn't been said. Rather than let such a vital issue die by default, they have called one last meeting to see if the opposition's howls aren't out of proportion to its real size. And since the supervisors have to act by February 1 if the zone is to be formed this year, the Pleasanton meeting will be the final one.

Last week this newspaper expressed sorrow and shame that only seven citizens could be found here to speak for flood controls. Surely in the meantime more will have discovered their voices.

The facts are plain enough. Alameda Creek's periodic floods and the lack of systematic drainage along its watersheds are holding back the development of Washington Township. Federal aid has been sought, but it may take years to arrive. Meantime, the county can embark on an emergency program of flood controls—but only if the zone is formed. Channels could be cleared and straightened. Upstream reservoirs could perform the dual function of control and water conservation against dry years. But only if the zone is formed.

Livermore cattlemen don't want the zone. It would cost them maybe a penny an acre. And our Township ranchers, who want the flood control, are afraid the program will cost too much unless Livermore comes in. There is also the argument that subdividers and factory-builders ought to pay for drainage and flood-curbs themselves, in advance, instead of letting the public finance them. To which we answer, maybe so, but if a public agency doesn't do it, the big developers either (1) won't come in, or (2) will indeed do the job themselves, then forever keep their taxes out of the district. It is these taxes we must seek to keep our public districts alive. Once the developer is in, and his factories or subdivisions built, the taxes on them pay back the original costs many-fold.

There the matter rests, just one year after the worst floods in local memory. And each of us must answer this question: shall I fight for the future at Pleasanton tomorrow or let the future float down Alameda Creek?

A JOB FOR IKE

In farewell statements made by two members of the outgoing Administration the reader can find striking evidence of confused attitudes which typified that Administration.

Air Secretary Finletter said of the Hydrogen Bomb, a monstrous weapon which can devastate an area 20 miles across: "It seems to be impossible to understand (its) political and military implications." Finletter made it clear nobody in Washington accepted the responsibilities of trying to figure out those implications, thus leaving the problem squarely up to a public which Washington kept in the dark about H-Bombs.

On the other hand, Secretary of State Acheson in his swan song to his Foreign Service officers, told that tight and exclusive group:

"There is a great lag in the education and information between you who know the outside world, and the great mass of the American people and their elected representatives . . . you must learn to live with it."

Acheson went on to say that the public generally distrusts the State Department and its works, a statement which he ought to consider painfully obvious in the light of the November election.

Thus the outgoing Secretary made it plain he himself distrusts the American people, because of the people's ignorance and dislike of what Acheson's department has been doing in the public interest. An odd concept, in a democracy.

However, it is the contrast between the two philosophies that provides the most interest. Finletter wanted the public to tell him what to do about the H-Bomb. Acheson thought the public can't be trusted to do the right thing.

The new President must start remedying this melancholy state of affairs, both by injecting some constructive policies into the doubt-torn bureaus, and by co-ordinating their thinking.

MYSTERY WOMAN WAS FETE QUEEN

Yes, last week's Mystery Man was Joe Viveiros, popular proprietor of Niles' widely known refreshment emporium. Did you guess correctly? This week we give the ladies a chance again—a Mystery Woman instead of a Mystery Man. Oldtimers may find the clues easier. If you don't guess after reading the article, look elsewhere in the news columns for the answer.

Her grandfather settled here nearly 100 years ago, and once owned all of Morrison Canyon. Her father was born in Niles, and she first saw daylight on a ranch between Niles and Mission San Jose.

She went to primary school in Irvington, then moved to the Mission when her father opened a livery stable there.

Our Mystery Woman turned many a boy's head with her brunette beauty. We've seen pictures that prove it! Anyway, the Native Sons of the Golden West decided to hold a festival in Niles to raise money to restore Mission San Jose de Guadalupe, and they started a Queen contest. This was in 1913.

Our heroine was barely 18, and hadn't thought of entering the contest but a wealthy Missionite, Henry Lachman, was determined his town should not go unrepresented, so he cajoled her into being a candidate. She won.

For a full week, she was rushed to and fro attired in royal robes and crown, with princess attendants, to draw interest to the show. Some nights the Native Sons would have her on a platform downtown.

"I laugh about it now," she says. "I must have looked like a monkey up there."

Two years later, our Mystery Woman was married. Her spouse was a childhood sweetheart, one who used to carry her schoolbooks. Oddly enough, he was the factor that kept her from attending high school: his surrey was the transportation from Mission to Centerville, and her father, knowing she was "sweet" on the driver, forbade her to go with him! But they saw each other on week-ends.

The young couple lived in Oakland for awhile, then returned to the Mission and finally to Newark. The Mystery Woman's beloved husband died nearly three years ago after long service with the P. G. & E.

Since then she has worked for a professional man in the Township, and has become active in Eastern Star, Business & Professional Women, and Country Club work.

Their son, now 35, was in the Navy and was twice rescued from sinking ships at Pearl Harbor. He wangled a trip for his Township sweetheart to Honolulu during the war, and they were married there. Now, despite his youth, he manages a bank in San Lorenzo.

His mother looks back on a full life, with a wealth of friends and experiences.

Guess who.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE JANUARY 23

John S. Sammons of Chicago will deliver a public lecture on Christian Science in the First Congregational Church, Third and H Streets, Niles, next Friday, January 23, at 8 p.m.

Open to the public without charge, the lecture will be sponsored by the members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Niles. Mr. Sammons will speak on the subject "Christian Science and the Quest for Security." He is a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

Formerly vice-president and general manager of an engineering manufacturing firm, Mr. Sammons resigned from this work in 1931 to devote his time exclusively to the public practice of Christian Science healing. He began his study of Christian Science in 1911.

During World War II, Mr. Sammons served as a Christian Science wartime minister at military posts in Wyoming and California. He served in the Air Corps during World War I.

John Regalado Dead

John Regalado, 63, a native of the Philippines, died January 17 at a San Jose hospital after a short illness. He was the husband of Felicia Regalado, and lived on the Centerville-Irvington Road, Irvington. Services are pending at Chapel of the Palms, Centerville.

SAFeway BURGLARS GET $400 IN LOOT

Burglary of one big Township market was reported here Friday, and a similar attempt was foiled next day by a touchy burglar alarm.

The successful intruders forced a rear door in the Safeway Store at Centerville to steal 250 cartons of cigarettes, seven bottles of wine and two pairs of cotton gloves. Loss was estimated at $400.

Manager James Browne reported the entry to Sheriff's Lt. Lowell Creighton Friday morning.

In pre-dawn hours Saturday, burglars tried to jimmy open a back door in Leask's Market on Fremont Avenue nearer Niles. But they tripped the market's burglar alarm and fled before officers arrived.

parts of the West Coast, and I think you can count on more money being spent here in the next few years than almost anywhere else in the State."

Smith then said the company hopes to finance such construction out of new bonds and stocks, which the utility hopes to attract if the State Public Utilities Commission grants it any substantial part of a requested $44,000,000 rate increase.

This will boost local rates some 12 per cent, he said, but since message units will fall from 4.4 to 4 cents, no appreciable increase will be noted.

"I'll be happy to meet with you again in July and tell you the results of the survey," Smith concluded.

CARD OF THANKS

In memory of our dear friend, Victor Perdomo, we wish to express our gratitude to all his friends, for their kind assistance, during his long illness. In the name of his relatives in Italy, our sincere thanks for their sympathy, spiritual bouquets and floral offerings.

Alexander and Mary Ferrante

Looking Backward

20 YEARS AGO

(From Township Register, January 26, 1933)

Miss Lucy Shinn, 22, of Niles, died of influenza.

A rain-loosened rock crashed into a car on Niles Canyon, injuring 6-year-old Elsie Andrade of Alvarado.

Week-end rain boosted the season's waterfall here to a skimpy 8.33 inches.

Carrots were a penny a bunch at the local Safeway Store.

Dr. R. H. Bennett announced the Niles Firemen's Dinner will be held next week.

Lester Duffey returned to tell the Niles Chamber of Commerce depression conditions are worse in Los Angeles than here.

Editor Norman Parks called for an investigation of a "capitalist conspiracy" to overthrow the government, saying it was as dangerous as the Soviets.

DRAINAGE WELL TO AID IRVINGTON

A 12-inch drainage well will be re-opened near Irvington this month and may go far to help divert Stivers Pond runoffs into the town.

This was announced to the local Chamber of Commerce Tuesday by Jack Prouty, director of the Alameda County Water District, which is re-opening the old well, silted-up for more than 20 years.

Prouty said the percolation well will divert more than 500 gallons of water per minute. It is located southwest of the pond.

'SPRINGS BALLOTS FOR FLOOD ZONE

Patterson's commission will recommend Zone 5, along Alameda Creek.

Cattlemen from Livermore have bitterly opposed it on tax grounds, but Stanley said today, after week-long conferences in the area the expressed opinions "may not represent a true picture of public sentiment" in the region.

Stanley and the other supervisors will be on hand to observe, and a large delegation from Washington Township is expected to appear.

Next Tuesday, Stanley and Nine are slated to speak on Zone 6 at a dinner meeting of the Irvington Chamber of Commerce in Roethlin's Cafe. The public is invited. Discussion is expected to start shortly after 8 o'clock.

Lillian Guido Dies

Lillian Guido, about 62, died January 15 at her residence, 697 Cherry Road, Newark. She is survived by her husband, Alfonso, and was a native of San Francisco. Services were held Saturday at Chapel of the Palms, Centerville, with Rev. John Peppers officiating. Closing services were held at Olivet Memorial Park, Colma.

TEN YEARS AGO

(January 8, 1943)
Mrs. Roland Bendel reported 16 servicemen had been entertained here over the holidays by members of the Country Club.

Newark's Fire Chief Joe Paschote and Mrs. Paschote returned from a visit to their son, Eugene, at Camp Carson, Colorado.

Corporal Niels Nielsen wrote he enjoys reading the Register in New Guinea.

Eric Stenhammer and L. E. Bailey dissolved their real estate firm.

Editor Walter Waynelette suggested opening local stores at 9 a.m. instead of at 8 a.m. (war time) when, he said, the sun wasn't even up.

M. R. McMillan, a San Francisco newspaperman, advised Township ranchers to offer "small acreages" to Bay Area defense workers, who, according to McMillan, were planning to settle in California after the war.
